DEDICATION

Leo J. Lane Vice-Principal

In recognition of your thirty-five years as pedagogue and proctor, warden and confessor, mediator and mentor, we dedicate to you the 1965 Interim.

Your able and understanding guidance has instilled in us vocational determination; your embodiment of vigor has rendered to us the motivation for individual achievement; your sagacious counsel has provided us with educational purpose. We commend you on your devotion to the education of youth.

FOREWARD

We of the 1965 Interim have attempted to create an image of Whitman-Hanson Regional High that will stand the test of time. New and highly creative concepts have been blended with the best of previous volumes to produce what we believe to be a yearbook of exceptional quality.

The 1965 Interim is a chronicle of a year of experiences - not of a class, but of a school; not only stressing the joys and sorrows of the past, but establishing a perspective into what is to come. It is a pause - an Interim - to reflect on life at Whitman-Hanson and, perhaps, to contemplate the future.

When Whitman-Hanson alumni look in retrospect years hence, the true value of our new Student Life section will be realized. In it, we have concentrated not on individual personalities, but the qualities of the student's existence that make his school more than an edifice of education. We have endeavored to present the school as well as the student by removing modern achievements in the educational processes from the dubious record of memory, and highlighting them pictorially.

The 1965 Interim has captured a part of the excitement and enthusiasm of the high school. Its purpose is to accentuate a panorama of the school, the student, and the person.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Whitman-Hanson's faculty is more than a group of educated psychae dedicated to passing their knowledge to youth. Often considered enemies, they are doting advisors; separated and categorized in the adolescent imagination, they toil for a common cause; regarded as an aggregate of adult conformity, they are individuals with likes, dislikes, wants, needs ... and faults. They labor, they educate, they give of themselves. They are appreciated.

STUDENT LIFE

The student is more than a creature of learning and study; he is the personification of youthful vitality. His existence is not limited to the classroom, nor the playing field, nor the home. He is active - he discovers outlets for his vigorous endurance of life. He is a perfectionist - in his proverbial disenchantment with society, he strives to create and accomplish. He is a creature of action.

GOVERNMENT

"Removing the study of government and politics from the classroom to the field of action has been one of our greatest achievements in bringing the practical side of politics to the students." These words of Social Studies Public Relations Chairman Frank D. Rodick summarize the value of Whitman-Hanson's Government program, regarded as a huge success and as a step forward in producing a truly informed citizenry. During the course, the students spent a large measure of their time in practical, rather than theoretical, employment of their knowledge. They were active in the 1964 election campaign headquarters in Boston, heard government officials speak on the realities of campaigning, and observed their lawmakers in action.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Providing students with an opportunity to manifest ability and curiosity about their environment, Whitman-Hanson's science courses offer a means of self-instruction through practical application of knowledge gained in the classroom. Our fully-equipped laboratories provide an ideal atmosphere for students to experiment and formulate answers to their own questions about the wonders of nature. Students displaying curiosity and enthusiasm for science experiment and construct projects for presentation at the annual Science Fair, long one of the school's major attractions. "The important outcome," Principal Elton B. Smith has said of the Science Fair, "is the development of the wisdom, character, and ambition that is symbolized by the projects being presented by these students."

SHOP and HOME ECONOMICS

Two of the least-recognized, yet valuable courses at Whitman-Hanson, the Shop and Home Economics Programs, prepare students with vocational training for futures in mechanical and culinary arts. Students in these programs manifest manual skills which will be to their benefit when they enter the competitive world of endeavor for which they prepare.

SOCIAL

The student's social life is exuberant and spirited; he joins in activities with his classmates for recreation, to help his school and his community and to make a better citizen. He supports his school, -and he enjoys the companionship of his fellow students. The student is a social being.

Neither rain nor mud can stop the cheerleaders.

Another success for the Junior Class.

SCHOOL LIFE

The student's first obligation is to take advantage of educational opportunities - a duty to himself. He is attentive in his daily routine of learning, and he gains knowledge; he finds a moment of respite, and is prepared to continue; he is tired, yet finds in his fatigue a sense of accomplishment and well-being. He has added a little more to his accumulation of knowledge.

ACTIVITIES

Aside from the routine of classes, students at Whitman-Hanson are offered a spectrum of extra-curricular activities. Endeavoring to fulfill the students' avocational interests, faculty members devote valuable time and effort to coach and advise activities designed to aid the student, the school and the community.

Clubs and organizations range from interest and hobby groups to service and career organizations, providing the youth of Whitman-Hanson with a well-rounded program of education and enjoyment.

YEARBOOK STAFF

A great deal of time and effort is inherent in producing a yearbook; the work is multiplied when improvements are incorporated and new ideas tried for the first time. Such is the story of the 1965 Interim. The staff spent hundreds of hours planning, designing, and adding the improvements that make a good yearbook an exceptional one. Expanding the size of the book, including student life, writing prose that is as vivid verbally as the photographs are pictorially, and such "extras" as the W-H-R underclass pictures and the Senior Index is to be appreciated in viewing the success of the finished product. The Interim highlights progress at Whitman-Hanson -- the Government Course, the Science Department, class and social life enjoyed by the students -- all the characteristics that make a school more than just an edifice of learning. The imagination and effort supplied by the staff is recognizable and recapitulated in the 1965 Interim.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Throughout the last few years, Whitman-Hanson's student government has aspired to help students have an active part in school and community affairs. Ascending from "club" status, Whitman-Hanson's Student Council has become a conscientious student voice, acting in an advisory position to our administration in the formation of student policy. Efforts of the Council have initiated action and have received official sanction to make "student government" a meaningful entity in life at Whitman-Hanson.

HONOR SOCIETY

Whitman-Hanson students take pride in their National Honor Society, a member of the Southeastern Massachusetts Regional Association of National Honor Societies. Its members chosen on qualification of scholarship, service, leadership, and character, employ the aim of service to the student body, the school, and the community.

For the many would-be Florence Nightengales, the FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA provides an opportunity to observe the fundamentals of the nursing profession. The club encourages its members to discover, through practical experience, what is required of a nurse, and what rewards are reaped from the nursing profession.

F T A

THE FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA has shown itself to be an extremely progressive group. The teachers of tomorrow have had a good start in their future work by establishing reading programs in the elementary schools of Whitman and Hanson, tutoring fellow students, and devising a plan to aid substitute teachers in the classroom. Advisors Mrs. Ruth Howe and Mrs. June Millet help members gain a greater knowledge of and experience in the teaching profession.

F B L A

In order to promote competent business leadership and create more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations and careers, the FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA was created in 1963. Advisors Mrs. Dorothea Kostas and Mrs. Winnifred McCarthy aid the students in their understanding of all phases of the commercial world by planning visitations to schools and businesses and inviting former Whitman-Hanson students to speak on their experiences in the world of facts and figures.

Majorettes

In conjunction with our band, Whitman-Hanson's majorettes have contributed much to sports fans' enjoyment. The girls have arranged new and interesting marching routines for the band, and have proven to be an asset to Whitman-Hanson's music department.

Chorus

Harmony of voice and organization are but two of the goals of Goldenthroat Godfrey's sixty-member mixed chorus. The expansion to more complex musical arrangements has been well received at the group's concerts and assemblies.

Band

Whitman-Hanson's maestro, Douglas Godfrey, has expanded the activities of our band and has achieved an ascent of success in the past year. The addition of humor in football halftime activities, and concerts performed by the band have heightened the popularity of the band to an unprecedented pinnacle. The climax of an eventful year for our musicians was the exchange concert with the Hampton, New Hampshire, band. The Whitman-Hanson band is truly one of the most active of our school organizations.

Golf Club

Whitman-Hanson's new golf program, under the direction of "Slammin' William" Spratt, provides students with athletic activity and recreational enjoyment. In spite of snow, great enthusiasm greeted the WHITMAN-HANSON "DIVOT DIGGERS" formation a year ago, and further expansion is planned to include intramural and formal teams.

GOLF CLUB R. Corliss, D. DaSilva, M. Rowell, M. Goodwin, Mr. William Spratt, A. Sweinimer, C. Ford, P. Cogswell, W. Anderson.

Bowling Club

Regardless of their ability, bowlers have an excellent opportunity to enjoy their favorite sport - and raise their averages-through WHITMAN-HANSON's PANTHERS BOWLING LEAGUE. Members improve their scores by the weekly sojourns to the Carlyle Bowladrome where members engage in the challenge of sportsmen.

Ski Club

Skiing is a sport for which students at Whitman-Hanson are showing great enthusiasm. The SKI CLUB is in its fourth year with Miss Nancy Briard as advisor and instructor. During the winter months, the members go on ski trips to Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine. New members learn the fundamentals of skiing, often on Whitman-Hanson gravel piles, while veterans head toward the higher slopes, and return bruised, but happy.

AUDIO-VISUAL

As Whitman-Hanson's top student-teacher service organization, the AUDIO-VISUAL AIDES CLUB promotes the effective knowledge and use of all types of sound and visual equipment. In addition to providing valuable classroom teaching aids, and acquiring the skills to operate their equipment, the members plan activities and club parties at which Advisor William Spratt tells of his home movie experiences.

DRIVER EDUCATION

As a service to Whitman-Hanson's youthful drivers, the Driver Education Department provides an excellent program of classroom discussion and road practice which results in students' licensing and Registry certification for reduced insurance rates. Department head Frank D. Rodick and James Lee teach students rules of the road, discuss problems of modern driving, and provide valuable road experience to make tomorrow's drivers better and safer today.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

A dedicated camera bug, Mr. Robert Cromwell organized Whitman-Hanson's PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB in 1962, for the betterment of students' photographic abilities. The energetic members find picture processing intriguing, and enjoy capturing their memories of high school years through skills learned in PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB.

Spanish Club

Designed to acquaint students with Spanish and the peoples who speak it, the Spanish Club introduces its members to problems of Spanish-speaking countries, the intricacies of Spanish culinary, and Spanish fashion trends. Field trips to illustrate the Spanish historical point of view are financed by students through cake sales.

French Club

The French Club strives to instill in its members an understanding of the French language, history and culture. Because of the valuable experience of Advisor Tom Kelley, the students acquire firsthand knowledge of the French and their society.

Dramatic Club

One of the more popular groups in the school, the Dramatic Club is a paradise for young thespians. The group produces two plays a year, and with the aid of Mrs. Gloria Casey, Producer and Miss Dorothy Adinolfi, Director, sponsors dramatic competition among the underclasses for the development of dormant talents.

CHESS CLUB

"The development of the moral fibre to face challenges is an important phase of the high school education." These words of advisor Frank Rodick illustrate the purpose of the CHESS CLUB, a group of highly intelligent individuals who acquire mental dexterity and determination to win by learning the "world's oldest game."

CHEFS' CLUB

The CHEFS' CLUB, organized in 1963 under the direction of Mrs. Lapworth, provides not only experience in cooking to the males of Whitman-Hanson, but allows them to work together under circumstances which develop cooperation, teamwork, and better understanding.

CHEFS' CLUB: B. Rhue, L. Baker, J. Horton, R. Nutter, C. Ford, T. McWilliams, W. Tolman, Mrs. Lapworth, T. Miley, T. Smith, R. Harris, D. Long, R. Tingblad, R. Bays, P. Gold, W. Roberts, R. Trask.

CHEERLEADERS

The personification of school spirit, Whitman-Hanson's cheerleaders have considerably insensed attendance at sports events and rallies with new cheers for the 1964–65 season. Advisor Edith Leahy has made the squad an inspiration to members of our teams, as well as the pride of the student body.

The girls anxiously await the decision.

Science Club

SCIENCE CLUB, consisting of the naturally curious element of the student body, produces and develops scientific understanding. Students interested in comprehending the complexities of their environment, receive an awareness of the familiar and a knowledge of the phenomenal through scientifically-controlled experimentation.

Panther's Print

Inspiring interest in the field of journalism, the PANTHER'S PRINT provides an outlet for the writing ability and literary imagination of the student reporters. With the aid of Mr. Sullivan of the Stoughton Chronicle, and the student newspaper services of the Patriot Ledger, the students have succeeded in producing a paper with outstanding literary qualities. The PANTHER'S PRINT is truly a representative success of the student body. Many thanks to the advisors Mrs. Winnifred McCarthy and Janet Graham.

SPORTS

The 1964–65 sports season has held a measure of anxiety for all at Whitman-Hanson. Each student has shared with our teams the elation of victory, the agonies of defeat, and the acceptance of the challenge to improve even when triumphant.

It has been a memorable year of sports activity at our school. The coaches and student body have been proud of the conduct of the school's athletes on the playing field and on the court. The hard work, determination, and sportsmanship manifested by our teams and coaches have made Whitman-Hanson's sports program a success.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1965 Panthers football team had a highly successful season. Intensive work by the squad and the coaches was illustrated by the hard play and desire to win.

Coach Teahan commented, "They just weren't as sound defensively in comparison with past teams, and we just couldn't get enough possession of the ball. However, they did score when they got the ball. Our team spirit was very good, and the leadership of Co-Captains Parker Bates and Wayne Tolman was excellent."

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1965 Panther's Varsity Basketball Team started this season under the direction of a new coach with new ideas for the W-H courtmen. Mr. Hines immediately started his candidates on a rigorous training and practice routine. The rewards were: "spirit and hustle that were really great during the first half of the season. However, injuries and illness were of no help to the team during the latter part of the season. Next year's team is going to have a tough job to fill the positions of five graduating Seniors."

In view of past seasonal records this year's squad was much improved. However, one item was lacking, but not on the part of the team. Student support was low in attendance, but the spirit on the part of a faithful few students and cheerleaders was good and could be heard.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1965 Girls' Varsity basketball team achieved the ultimate goal of the Old Colony League in winning the 1965 League Championship. Coached by Miss Maida Pratt, the girls displayed the agility, speed, and over-all ability necessary to become a league champion. Their record speaks for itself:

W-H	OPPONENT
62	Abington 19
63	Silver Lake 17
36	Plymouth-Carver 32
40	Rockland 37
36	Middleboro 15
50	Abington 8
39	Silver Lake 23
39	Plymouth-Carver 26
36	Rockland 51
58	Middleboro 27

The Junior Varsity also had an impressive and promising record of 6 victories and 4 defeats. This is a sign of some upcoming varsity players for future W-H teams.

BASEBALL AND TENNIS

Two of our most vigorous spring sports, baseball and tennis, have enjoyed great popularity in the last few years due to the strong team spirit generated by their coaches' inspiration. Enjoyment of the sport and development of a proficiency in play characterize our baseball and tennis teams.

The girls practice diligently to ensure a victory.

FACULTY-STUDENT GAME

The annual faculty-student basketball game manifests the natural student desire to outdo their superiors. Their competitive spirit is reflected in the final tabulation which changes only slightly from year to year, always with the faculty left in full grasp of the well-known satchel. Coach Frank D. "Blood 'n' Guts" Rodick lost 57–53 to Coach Dino "Old Fox" Andrews' star-studded Varsity team in Whitman-Hanson's annual post-Valentine's Day massacre. TRACK

The 1965 Track Team is looking forward to an aggressive schedule in the Old Colony League. Coach Thomas Kelley and the team will have a big job to fill the positions of last year's seniors with new faces. The 1964 track record will be a reminder and a goal for future teams to strive toward.

We wish our track team continued success.

UNDERCLASS

The underclassman is a being of development of mind and spirit. As he expands academically and socially, he emerges as an individual as well as a part of a class; he acts as a factor in group activities, but also as a unique identity in the pursuit of his independence. Relying on his patrician, the Senior, for guidance, the plebian learns to participate, cooperate, and become a vital part of his scholastic environment.

The followers of today prepare for the responsibility of leadership in the future.

SENIORS

The senior is the ultimate in student achievement. He is at the epitome of consciousness of his existence. He has completed his secondary education, he is at the pinnacle of his adolescent years, he anticipates his future. At the advent of adulthood, the senior is an entity of contemplation. As he looks in retrospect to his endeavors for individuality and recognition, he considers his accomplishments and compares them to his aspirations for the future.

The senior has come to the end, and is about to begin; his motto:

To remember the past
To deserve the future.

THE MOUSE THAT ROARED
SENIOR CLASS PLAY

You insipient clod, you won.

The Class of 1965 produced "The Mouse That Roared," a comedy, which was the most successful class play ever produced at Whitman-Hanson. Directing was Mrs. Sheila Hallisey and, later, Mr. Daniel Redgate who, with a hard-working and conscientious cast, produced a comedy lauded by all. Whitman-Hanson's thespians labored long and hard in their production, and were superb in their service to the class and the community.

A grateful cast thanks their director Mr. Daniel Redgate.
